

WALTON LODGE

(CLEVEDON)

REGISTER

INTRODUCTION.

THE compilation of this Register would have been an impossible task if Old Walton Lodgers had not given their assistance by supplying information, not only as to themselves, but also as to other members of their families and their friends. To all such thanks are duly tendered.

The Register is divided into two parts. Part I consists so far as the name G. R. Ainslie (307) of a copy of the three framed lists which used to hang over the fireplace in the big schoolroom. The largest of these lists contains the names of some who were educated by Stephen Cornish's father and brother at Compton Dando and elsewhere, as also at Walton Lodge; this list was written by J. C. V. Mather (114). The two other framed lists are by other hands, and have the dates inserted. When the names from the framed lists cease, a careful comparison has been made of the School Lists printed at the end of each term, and the names of new boys are placed under the term in which their names appear for the first time.

Part II is arranged in alphabetical order, with a reference number to Part I, and contains the full name, the Public School, and present address, or the date of death, if these details are known. It is hoped that by giving the Public School; the details of the boy's after-career could be traced and so avoid the expense of reprinting what could be read either in the register of that Public School or in the various books of reference.

The Register only deals with those who were under Cornish, but may serve as an example for a further Register which will, no doubt, contain as many, if not more, names of those who have truly and wisely served God both in Church and State.

ADDENDA

Several pencilled notations appear on the pages of the Register which may be of interest (please note that the page numbers quoted refer to those that appear in the original booklet):

1. On page 16 there is an 'X' in the left-hand margin next to the name of Henry Cecil Royds Brocklebank.
2. Similarly, on page 22 there is an 'X' next to the name of Major-General Sir Henry Joseph Everett.
3. On page 28 there are pencilled notes amending/supplementing the entries for Rev George Clarke Keble, Rev John Robert Keble, Rev Richard James Keble, and Rev Thomas Charles Keble.
4. On page 37 there are two handwritten amendments to the entry for George Frederick Anderton Sanford: the first altering the surname from 'Sanford' to 'Sandford', and the second changing the address from 'The Firs, Porlock' to 'Sunny Hill, Porlock'.
5. On the final page, the following notes have been handwritten:
